

❖ Arm of the Seine near Giverny : By Claude Monet

❖ 'All I really needed to know, I learnt in kindergarten' : By Robert Fulghum

In the bestselling book by the same name ('All I really wanted to know ...') the American author Robert Fulghum argues that the fundamental principles of life are really very simple, and all that we have to do is 'remember' the things we were taught in kindergarten 😊

Share everything.

Play fair.

Don't hit people.

Put things back where you found them.

Clean up your own mess.

Don't take things that aren't yours.

Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody.

Wash your hands before you eat.

Flush.

Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you.

Live a balanced life - learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work every day some.

Take a nap every afternoon.

When you go out into the world, watch out for traffic, hold hands, and stick together.

Wonder. Remember the little seed in the Styrofoam cup: The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like that.

Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the Styrofoam cup - they all die. So do we.

And then remember the Dick-and-Jane books and the first word you learned - the biggest word of all – LOOK.

❖ Blue Note : The Ultimate Jazz Collection

A great collection of performances by few of the Jazz greats -

I would like to thank Vandana Lisa Scolt for introducing me to books written by Robert Fulghum

About 'Treasures'

It's a compilation that I put together every month, of things that I have found to be beautiful and meaningful.

Do share with others who you think will enjoy it.

Drop me an email if you want to add someone to the circulation list.
